

Contents

Notes on Contributors

Preface – Terry Belanger 1

Introduction: Towards a Pedagogy of Bibliography – Ann R. Hawkins 5

Part I. Rationales

Exploring the Archaeology of the Book in the Liberal Arts
Curriculum – Martin Antonetti 19

Historical Bibliography for Rare-Book Librarians – Mirjam M. Foot 25

'A Clear and Lively Comprehension': The History and Influence of the Bibliographical Laboratory – Steven Escar Smith 33

Bookends: Towards a Poetics of Material Form – Sydney J. Shep 38

Part II. Creating and Using Resources

Book History on the Road: Finding and Organizing Resources
Outside the Classroom – Lisa Berglund 44

Jane Eyre on eBay: Building a Teaching Collection – John A. Buchtel 51

History of the Book in the American Literature Classroom: On the Fly and on the Cheap – Jean Lee Cole 58

From Printing Type to Blackboard™: Teaching the History of the Early Modern Book to Literary Undergraduates in a 'New' UK
University – Ian Gadd 65

Part III. Methodologies

Teaching 'History of the Book'

Preparing library school graduate students for Rare Book and Special Collections jobs: Assignments and Exercised that Work –
Deirdre Stam 72

Book History and Library Education in the Twenty-first century –
Erik Delfino 81

Making the Medicine Go Down: Baggy Monsters and Book History – Sean Grass	88
‘They are Not Just Big, Dusty Novels’: Teaching Hard Times within the Context of Household Words – Jennifer Phegley	95
‘In Bibleistic a Way’: Teaching Nineteenth-Century American Poetry Through Book and Periodical Studies – Susanna Ashton	102
Teaching Bibliography and Research Methods
The Bibliography and Research Course – John T. Shawcross	109
Integrating ‘Bibliography’ with ‘Literary Research’: A Comprehensive Approach – Maura Ives	117
The Hidden Lives of Books – D. W. Krummel	124
Learning from Binders: Investigating the Bookbinding Trade in Colonial Philadelphia – Thomas Kinsella and Willman Spawn	132
Papermaking, History and Practice – Timothy Barrett	142
The Bibliographical Analysis of Antique Laid Paper: A Method – R. Carter Hailey	149
Teaching Textual Criticism
20. How Things Work: Teaching the Technologies of Literature – Matthew G. Kirschenbaum	155
21. ‘Not to Pick Bad from Bad, But By Bad Mend’: What Undergraduates Learn from Bad Editions – Erick Kelemen	161
22. Book History and Reader-Response Theory: Teaching Shakespeare’s Romeo and Juliet and King Lear – Tatjana Takseva Chorney	167
23. Textual Criticism: Students as Book Detectives and Scholarly Editors – Ann R. Hawkins	174
Afterword – Daniel Traister	178
Part V. Resources	185
Index	190